SEARCH IN DEPTH

With Westlaw Middle East, you can now consult more sources and reference more material with greater accuracy and coverage than ever before. Our dedicated team provides with you with an ever-expanding wealth of content by continuously seeking out new laws and amendments. The text of all our translations is fully searchable. For instance, as well as searching for the name of any legislation, you can also search for terms within the translations.

SEARCH WITH SPEED

Our aim is to save you time and accelerate your research process. Functionality is intuitive and navigation is easy-to-use, offering you a research tool that works in line with your search path and takes you to the vital pieces of information you are looking for.

SEARCH WITH EASE

Our Master Gazette Index is set up for you to search through titles of all laws in English. Westlaw Middle East also allows you to customize your research process by enabling you to highlight important passages, attach notes to your search documents, and search for words at the document display. All your research, highlights, and notes are automatically saved, all for your convenience.

SEARCH WITH CONFIDENCE

With all translations carried out by Thomson Reuters legal specialists, rest assured that you are working with accurate, intelligent, and reliable information. In addition, with all the laws consolidated, you can be confident that you are referring to the latest version.
